

Looker 3773

LOOKER is an exceptional study lamp; it can be easily adjusted in the position which pleases you most. Designed by Santiago Sevillano, it provides a light that accompanies us; its cosy safe presence will make your home a special place. Refreshingly young with a design that combines metal with touches of colour, it evokes a Nordic setting with its wood finish, perfectly adapted for study areas or to provide a bright presence as a decorative point. It houses low energy light (E27).

Its finishes in the metal version combine the white colour with pistachio or strawberry finishes. The natural wood version with lovely white finishes will also impress you. Make room for a new light in your favourite space...

LOOKER has arrived.
